> The school mission and vision statements are posted in every classroom and office in the school. Statements are regularly revisited to ensure program coherence and fidelity. Principal Dr. Joyce Kenner meets frequently with the Administrative Team to maintain the school's focus on mission fulfillment. The school motto, "Whitney Young, Where Excellence Is the Standard,' is communicated through daily announcements of student achievement and regular celebratory pep rallies for academic and artistic as well as athletic achievement. Although one of the principal's personal goals for Whitney Young is that every student will take at least one AP class before graduation, many students take more than one AP class during their high school careers.

Guide for Leadership & Collective Responsibility

- Set the direction and create a sense of purpose by building consensus on and implementing a shared vision.
  - Consider the demographics of the school community in developing a shared vision.
  - Help stakeholders understand the relationship between the school's vision and their initiatives and priorities.

  - Master skills associated with large-scale strategic planning processes and implementation of such plans.
  - Steer through the challenges associated with making improvements, both large and small.
- Create and sustain a coherent instructional program (coordinated and consistent) with learning goals.
- Use the CPS Framework for Teaching to ground instructional guidance and coaching.
  - Model ambitious goals for teaching and learning for all students, including priority groups.
  - Draw from the best available evidence to inform instructional improvement decisions.
- Enable staff to focus and prioritize what matters most.
  - Buffer staff from external distractions to the school's priorities and goals.
  - Limit school improvement goals to a few high leverage activities.
  - Prioritize teaching challenging content, engaging students in learning, rigor and ways to raise achievement.

Instructional Leadership Team:

Score

The ILT is characterized by having a consistent structure for teacher leadership that is focused on creating and implementing the theories of action that improve teaching and learning. ILT meetings are a productive forum to identify challenges, collect and review evidence, exchange ideas, and propose and implement solutions to challenges to school improvement.

> We are in the process of reconstituting the Instructional Leadership Team to take advantage of the talents of newly emerging leaders among faculty members.

Guide for Instructional Leadership Team

- Engage in on-going inquiry (e.g. continuous improvement cycles) as a basis for improvement.
  - Gain productive insight and take substantial new action or adjust strategy that clearly addresses root causes.
  - Relentlessly ask, "Is it working?" about every program, initiative, and strategy in the school.
  - Vet Initiatives and strategies on the basis of their direct or proven impact on outcomes.
  - Monitor if previous actions were implemented (fidelity) and working as intended. Ask, "If not, why not?"
- Share leadership for improving teaching and learning with representative school members.
  - Organize the team around a common understanding of team's purpose and instructional priorities.
  - Represent all relevant specialty content areas, programs, related services, and grade bands/department teams and is an appropriate size.
  - Represent a balance of work styles (e.g. task-oriented, provides push-back, synthesizes, etc.)
- Use protocols and ask probing questions.
  - Ask questions focused on factors within sphere of control and avoid a focus on student factors.
  - Use appropriate protocols and level of analysis (grade, school-wide, individuals) for meeting purpose.
  - Systematically consider root cause(s) based on thorough review of evidence.
- Use timely and relevant data/evidence sources.
  - Gather and use current and relevant local student, school, teacher performance (e.g. attendance data, assessment results), and operational data formatively to review and revise school and classroom practices as needed.
  - Disaggregate data for priority student groups (e.g. English learners, diverse learners).
- Schedule and structure frequent meetings.
  - Meet regularly (2-4 times per month).
  - Use an agenda with a clear focus.
- Collaborate effectively, value transparency, and inform and engage stakeholders.
  - All team members have equity of voice and are actively engaged in asking questions.
  - Celebrate small wins and improvements.
  - Regularly inform and engage stakeholders of key data and work of the ILT.

Score

> This year our principal Dr. Joyce Kenner has instituted Third Thursdays, a schedule in which every third Thursday features a one and a half hour faculty meeting time. This time is used for professional development of various types including informational meetings and department meetings. These meetings are used for a variety of purposes including data deep dives, informational meetings from the school social worker, organization of testing schedules, presentations by district personnel, and department meetings. In addition, as funds permit, teachers and counselors are encouraged to attend offsite professional development conferences, and subs are provided for this purpose.

Guide for Professional Learning

- Select and design professional learning (PL) to achieve school-wide improvement, including closing priority group achievement gaps.
    - Use data to identify performance and practice gaps to inform PL plan.
    - Use research about best practices to identify potential learning and subject matter experts to support.
    - Solicit feedback from staff to inform selection of PL opportunities.
    - Provide PL relevant to the cultural and linguistic needs of students.
    - Provide both whole staff and differentiated PL to individual teacher levels.
- Implement and sustain on-going, job-embedded professional learning (PL) (e.g. coaching, peer learning opportunities, action research)
    - Recommend and/or provide PL opportunities directly related to individuals' specific areas of need and professional growth goals.
    - Encourage staff to broaden networks to bring new knowledge and resources to learning environment.
    - Teachers initiate opportunities for professional growth and proactively seek opportunities to enhance content knowledge and pedagogical skill.
- Structure time for teachers to collaborate and learn together.
    - Create schedules and systems to conduct peer observations, and coaching. Reflect on its impact.
    - Teachers provide and accept collegial support and feedback to/from colleagues.
    - Teachers participate in and facilitate professional inquiry in teams to advance student learning.
- Make 'safe practice' an integral part of professional learning.
    - Allow teachers ample time to try new strategies, refine skills, grapple with implementation problems, and share knowledge and experience.
    - Provide support that addresses the specific challenges of changing classroom practice. Provide coaching/mentoring support to validate continuing to work through struggles.
- Monitor implementation to ensure staff uses new knowledge to improve practice and it is having the desired effect on practice and student outcomes.
    - Conduct frequent non-REACH observations to provide coaching and actionable feedback.
- Provide induction and support for new teachers.
    - Assign each new teacher a mentor who is skilled in pedagogy and is an open, collaborative colleague.
    - Schedule a series of 'learning experiences' for new teachers that helps them navigate important initiatives (e.g. REACH) and provides information on school specific goals and resources.

Evidence, Measures, and Standards

Suggested Evidence	✓ School's PD Plan – review for goal alignment – does the plan advance the school's improvement agenda? ✓ PD agendas, PD feedback surveys ✓ Teacher practice improving on the Framework for Teaching (e.g. Basic>Proficient, Proficient>Distinguished)

Aligned Resources:

Resources (e.g. time, budget, staff, and community resources) are aligned to school priorities. Improving achievement guides resource allocation. Making the most of student time and staffing is a priority. The school organizes resources school-wide through schedules and staffing plans that target additional time and individual attention to those students who need it most and to highest priority subject areas.

Score

Dr. Kenner and our LSC Budget Committee meet monthly to prepare recommendations for the LSC based on school priorities related both to academic achievement and to social-emotional learning. Dr. Kenner meets monthly with the PPLC to discuss schedules and more frequently with the Administrative Team to decide on staffing. The success of this process is demonstrated on a daily basis throughout the school. Some examples include the following: Freshman Connection and Academic Center Orientation are provided to help our new students adjust to the life and culture of the school. Our Writing Center and our Math Center are both staffed full time with certified teachers to provide individual time and attention to struggling students in core subjects. Virtual school courses are provided to students who need credit recovery services. Class sizes are reduced where possible in regular level English classes. A counselor and the school scheduler are on site during the summer. Clerks, security personnel, and computer technicians are deployed for maximum efficiency. ACT and PSAT prep courses are offered after school.

Guide for Aligned Resources

- Design a school day that is responsive to student needs.
    - Use CPS Instructional Time Guidelines to maximize instructional time.
    - Use CPS Instructional Block Guidelines to maximize academic-engaged time.

- Align the budget to the CIWP priorities and the mission of the school.
  - Avoid overemphasis on the purchase of products/programs that are not research based or do not respond to SEF needs.
  - Leverage strategic source vendors to maximize dollars.
  - Seek and obtain grants to support articulated needs.
  - Use grant funds strategically to support areas of highest need.
  - Maximize the use of supplemental funding to close any priority group achievement gaps.
- Streamline purchase procedures to minimize lapses between ordering and receiving materials.
- Evaluate, to the extent possible, the consequences for student learning of resource allocation decisions to develop an evidence base of outcomes of particular uses of resources.
- Have a 'hiring team' and collaborative hiring process with clear selection criteria to identify and select best available candidates.
  - Actively work to build a pool of potential staff members, particularly difficult to fill positions (e.g. staff to serve English learners).
  - Use an interview process including a protocol for questioning and select highly qualified candidates.
  - Require a classroom lesson demonstration to assess candidate expertise, philosophy and commitment.

Curriculum:

The curriculum – what students should know and be able to do - makes standards come alive for students. All students have access to an academically rigorous curriculum that inspires students to think and contribute high quality work to authentic audiences beyond the classroom. The curriculum fully integrates academic and social emotional learning opportunities for all students, including diverse learners, English learners, and advanced learners. The school regularly examines the curriculum to check alignment to standards and opportunities for all students to meet those standards.

> At Whitney Young we work on our curriculum continuously and collaboratively as part of our long term commitment to curricular excellence. We examine our course offerings every year and solicit input from all stakeholders on possible new courses to offer and outdated offerings to reduce or drop. Our ongoing participation in the voluntary AdvancEd accreditation process provides us with regular opportunities to reflect on our curriculum. In addition, over the past five years we have doubled our enrollment in AP classes and instituted dual enrollment and dual credit partnerships with UIC and Loyola University. These are the kinds of initiatives which we pursue with care and intention as a school.

Guide for Curriculum

- Adhere to the CPS Content Frameworks (Math (https://sites.google.com/a/cps.edu/kc/curriculum/content-area-subpages/library-science/cps-virtual-library/math-content-framework---virtual-library), Science (https://sites.google.com/a/cps.edu/kc/curriculum/content-area-subpages/science/cps-science-content-framework), Social Science (https://sites.google.com/a/cps.edu/kc/curriculum/content-area-subpages/social-science-1/social-science-content-framework-3-0), and Literacy (https://sites.google.com/a/cps.edu/kc/curriculum/content-area-subpages/literacy/cps-literacy-content-framework-2-0)) to ensure alignment of scope and text and task complexity.
  - Provide a range and depth to knowledge and understanding of learning experiences that are language and content rich.
- Align units of instruction (horizontally/vertically) to scope and sequence maps and pace units and lessons appropriately.
  - Focus so units can be adequately addressed in the time available.
  - Examine formative data to determine mastery and pace. Discuss how much time it takes to adequately address the essential elements, and the viability of documents that articulate essential content and timing of delivery (e.g. pacing guides, curriculum maps).
- Utilize the 'big ideas' that should be taught to determine whether students are being taught the body of knowledge, the understandings and the skills expected.
  - Identify the essential understandings – what students should learn in greater depth. In other words, know 'covering everything but learning nothing' does not work.
- Expose and extend opportunities for all students to grade appropriate levels of text complexity in all types of texts, including informational in all content areas.
  - Articulate language goals that are separate from and support content goals. Literacy - reading, writing and speaking are essential 'learning tools' across the curriculum (disciplinary literacy).
- Engage all learners in content areas by fully integrating opportunities for all learners, including:
  - Diverse learners to demonstrate core knowledge and skills.
  - English Learners to develop academic language to demonstrate mastery.
    - Use English and native language development in addition to content standards to differentiate for English learners.
    - Understand research and implement programs to develop native language literacy for English learners.
  - Advanced learners to extend core knowledge and skills.
- Distinguish qualitatively and quantitatively between 'regular courses' and 'advanced courses' (e.g. AP (http://apcentral.collegeboard.com/home), gifted (https://docs.google.com/a/cps.edu/viewer?a=v&pid=sites&srcid=Y3BzLmVkdXxrY3xneDoyYjlINGI4MmY3YTlxYTgz), etc.)
- Integrate academic and social emotional learning.
- Reach outside of the classroom for real world (or simulated) application. For example,
  - Incorporate web capabilities for interactivity and information sharing.
  - Integrate field-based learning through partnerships with city institutions (e.g. museums (https://sites.google.com/a/cps.edu/kc/home/teachers/museum-resources)), colleges, universities, and community based organizations.

> The explosion of technology in schools over the past several years has lowered the cost of materials-based differentiation. This change has allowed us to explore new ways to connect students with information and help them to become creators of information. We rely on varied, flexible, individually adaptable instructional materials, using our technological capacity to provide classes with Chrome Books, teachers with laptops, and classrooms with projectors and Smart Boards. These changes help us to serve our students with increasing effectiveness, as the Universal Design for Learning Guidelines 2.0 recommend.

- Include tools and supports needed to access, analyze, organize, synthesize, and demonstrate understanding in varied ways – for learning and expression of knowledge.
    - The needs of the students at different performance levels are met by using a variety of instructional materials that allow students to draw on all of their learning capacities.
    - The teacher models effective use of various materials.
    - Students understand that materials are a means to acquire language, knowledge, and competencies.
    - Technology enhances students' higher order, creative thinking and problem solving.
    - Materials connect subject area content to real life applications.
- Include alternative pathways including choice of content, varied levels of support and challenge, and options for recruiting and sustaining interest and motivation – for engaging and learning.
    - Students make choices about instructional materials as part of learning.
    - Materials address the needs of the total child: cognitive, linguistic, social, emotional, physical, and aesthetic.
    - Consumables are often non-print supplies that promote active, hands-on learning.

Rigorous Student Tasks:

The school regularly examines student work - what students are being asked to do on in their classrooms - across grades or courses in all content areas. Examining the texts and tasks students experience provides the necessary insight to gauge rigor and illuminate how the standards are actualized prompting the question whether or not approaches support the true spirit of college and career readiness. > The learning culture of Whitney Young fosters a great deal of teacher collaboration, not just during our Third Thursday meetings but also in daily informal interactions among teachers. Team meetings and department meetings feature looking at student work as well as discussions analyzing the CCSS and tracing how the standards guide our assignments and assessments to equip our students for college and careers. Considerable attention is given to standardized test results as well.

Guide for Rigorous Student Tasks

- Begin with the belief that all students can learn. (see Culture for Learning)
    - Convey high learning expectations for all students and develop structures that enable practice and perseverance for each individual student.
    - Create an environment where students assume responsibility for high-quality work by persevering, initiating improvements, addressing critiques, making revisions, adding detail and/or helping peers.

- Communicate the necessity of attendance and engagement everyday in order to succeed.
- Plan and assign tasks that are cognitively challenging for individual students and require students to provide evidence of their reasoning.
  - Align tasks with standards-based learning objectives that reflect the depth of knowledge expectations.
  - Tasks are Integrative to draw on multiple standards.
  - Teach for Robust Understanding in Mathematics (TRU Math (https://sites.google.com/a/cps.edu/kc/curriculum/content-area-subpages/math/tru-math-dimensions/TRU%20Math%20-%20Conversation%20Guide%20(Short%20Version).pdf?attredirects=0&d=1)). Engage students with important mathematical ideas, not simply receiving knowledge, requiring students to engage in productive struggle.
- Tasks reflect the key shifts in literacy.
  - Complexity: Tasks reward close reading of complex text; Focus on comprehension of academic language, not obscure vocabulary.
  - Evidence: Cite evidence from text and write to sources, not decontextualized prompts.
  - Knowledge (non-fiction): Tasks embed reading and writing across disciplines with a variety of literary and informational complex texts and tasks and demonstrate comprehension through speaking, listening.
- Tasks reflect the key shifts in mathematics.
  - Focus: Tasks reflect a curricular and instructional focus on the major work in (e.g. operational fluency and number sense in K-2).
  - Coherence: Multi-grade progressions stress key beginnings (e.g. ratios in 6th grade) and key end points (e.g. fluency with multiplication in 3rd);
  - Rigor: Problems require construction of mathematical reasoning and critiques of other possible solutions.
- Provide opportunities for students to create authentic work for real audiences (beyond the teacher) to motivate them to meet standards and engage in critique and revision.
- Examine student work to identify and showcase the qualities of strategic thinking that are both rich in content and relevant for students.
  - Analyze models with students to build a vision of quality.
  - Use protocols to collectively reflect regularly on the level of cognitive demand asked of students across the school, particularly priority group students, to think strategically as speakers, listeners, readers, and writers.
  - Analyze student work samples as part of professional learning to best support students' attainment of quality work and standards.

The school creates pathways to success built on a vision in which all students leave secondary school with a clear plan for their initial postsecondary destination, whether in apprenticeship training, work, or college. All students have equal access to college preparatory curriculum to be successful. The school is characterized by structures for developing early postsecondary awareness and the knowledge and skills that lay the foundation for the academic rigor and social development necessary for college and career success. Students are equipped with the confidence in their ability to implement and adapt their plan throughout their lives as they and the world around them change. This vision sees students as the architects of their own lives.(adapted from Creating Pathways to Success, Ontario)

At Whitney Young, students are made aware of our expectations for them from the beginning of their seventh grade or freshman year. In programming conferences, counselors focus on college readiness and the student's four- or six-year plan is discussed in detail, reviewed, and revised each year. All students have access to challenging curriculum.

Early in the student's junior year, the college admissions and financial processes are explained in detail both in group guidance sessions and in meetings with parents. We also have an annual college fair, attended by representatives of 120 colleges and universities. In addition, we have college recruiters visiting our school almost every day throughout the school year, with a total of 326 such visits so far this year. 92% of our seniors and 83% of our juniors have used the Naviance site at least once. For the past several years, every graduating senior has applied and been accepted to a college, although some choose to take a gap year or to join the military. Thus, our college counseling program is robust and successful, although we wish we had a more accurate way to measure our college enrollment and retention rates. According to the Illinois School Report Card for 2015, our dropout rate is 0.1%, and 99% of our freshmen are considered on track to graduate on time.

Guide for Transitions, College & Career Access & Persistence

- TRANSITIONS - Have structures and processes in place to ensure successful transitions (e.g. into school , grade to grade, school to school, school to post-secondary).
  - Mitigate the adverse effects experienced by some students in transition – such as arriving part-way through the school year – that can cause students

- to fall behind or become disengaged from school.
  - Monitor the progress of English learners after transition from services.
  - Provide programs and interventions that help students as they move from middle school through Freshmen year, including but not limited to: High School Investigation Days, Freshmen Connection program (where budget allows), and a robust Freshmen Orientation program. Implement targeted holistic student supports the entire Freshmen year.
  - Provide sustained summer learning experiences to minimize learning loss and support key transition periods (e.g. summers before Kindergarten, HS, and college).
    - Use student data and best practices research to develop focused programs.
    - Expand access beyond students who are struggling academically.
    - Provide school counseling and postsecondary advising transition support and follow-up during "Summer Melt" and the first year of college.
  - AWARENESS - Expose students early to academic/professional worlds beyond K-12.
    - Provide students opportunities to discover personal talents and skills, identify career interests, and pursue coursework/activities necessary to reach personal, academic and career goals.
    - Expose students to a range of career paths and the educational requirements of each to improve long-term planning and goal-setting.
    - Start the conversation about college in primary grades.
    - Make parents aware of academic opportunities and supports for their child.
  - READINESS – Ensure equitable access to college preparatory curriculum.
    - Provide access to 8th Grade Algebra to all eligible 8th grade students.
    - Provide access to early college and career coursework and credential opportunities while in HS (e.g. AP credit, Dual credit, industry credentials (CTE), Seal of Biliteracy)
    - Teach students to analyze their transcripts and test scores, as well as connect course selection, attendance, and grades to their continued success and access to postsecondary options, and adjust their actions and behavior to make progress toward graduation and their top postsecondary choice. Provide support and motivation to encourage B's or better and improving attendance.
    - Create opportunities for students to explore college and career knowledge, mindsets, and skills necessary for academic planning and goal setting.
    - Find opportunities to work with all students on academic and personal behaviors, including persistence, engagement, work habits/organization, communication/ collaboration, and self-regulation.
    - In Naviance, develop an Individual Learning Plan that tracks coursework, college and career assessments, goal setting, 6th-12th grade milestones completion that culminates in a concrete postsecondary plan.

Instruction:

The teachers have finely honed instructional skills. They can shift from one approach to another as the situation demands by carefully monitoring the effect of their teaching on student learning. They seamlessly incorporate ideas and concepts from other parts of the curriculum into their explanations and activities. Their questions probe student thinking and serve to extend understanding. They promote the emergence of self-directed learners.

As the REACH Framework Teacher Evaluation scores corroborate, the instructional practices of Whitney Young teachers are proficient or distinguished in the vast majority of cases. The mean REACH evaluation score for teachers, both tenured and PAT, is approximately 3.5 with minimal variability among component scores. Teachers work across curriculum as appropriate to integrate ideas and knowledge from other disciplines int other classrooms. Students responding to the My Voice My School survey rated their teachers "Very Strong" in ambitious instruction.

Multi-Tiered System of Support:

The school is characterized by full implementation a system of academic and social emotional (SEL) supports for all students. Every day, in all classrooms, all teachers provide: Universal instruction in the core curriculum - academic & SEL (Tier 1) to all students; additional targeted academic and SEL supports (Tier 2) where needed; and deep and intense supports (Tier 3) based on individual and small group needs. The school also monitors On Track data (grades/GPA and attendance (ES), and course credits (HS)) to provide interventions/supports for students at risk for failure and/or truancy.

We are in the process of working on our MTSS capacity, and in so doing we are seeking more information from other high schools about how to mesh the complexities of high school organization with the supports provided in an outstanding MTSS program at the high school level. Meanwhile, teachers meet frequently with struggling students, and counselors and deans are available to provide further support. Tutoring is available both from the NHS and from the teachers in charge of the writing and math centers. With the goal of keeping students in class, we make use of Saturday School and detentions when necessary. Our attendance rate for this year is 95.23%, and our On Track rate for freshmen is 99%.

Guide for Multi-Tiered System of Support

- TIER 1 - Persist in adjusting instruction so individual student misunderstandings or advanced needs are successfully accommodated. (3e)
  - Intervene in a timely and effective way to help students who are struggling.
  - When formative assessments show a need for intervention or enrichment, teachers make effective impromptu adjustments that individualize instruction for students.
  - Use progress monitoring data to trace effectiveness of interventions and student response to intervention.
- TIER 1 - Customize the learning environment, pace, and approach of teaching and curriculum in order to meet each learners' individual needs ('Personalized Learning').
  - Empower student to advance their learning.
  - Use up-to-date individual student profiles that include strengths, needs, motivations, and outlines an individualized path to reach his/her goals.
  - Classrooms are student-centered with student agency.
  - Each student has the opportunity to advance upon demonstrating mastery.
- ON TRACK - Provide universal supports to prevent failing and absenteeism and targeted interventions for grades below "C" or chronic absenteeism. (On Track)
  - Identify students off track due to low attendance and poor course performance and provide intensive supports to address root causes of why students have low grades and poor attendance.
- TIER 2 & 3 - Collaborate and work as teams of teachers and Related Service Providers (RSP) to plan and monitor targeted student support with varied instructional strategies and SEL support of varying degrees of intensity for all students.

Balanced Assessment & Grading:

Score

A balanced assessment system effectively measures the depth and breadth of student learning and monitors student progress towards college and career readiness. It also produces actionable data to inform planning for instruction, academic supports, and resource allocation. To meet these goals, a balanced assessment system must include multiple measures and be responsive to the needs of all students, including diverse learners and English learners.

> We at Whitney Young believe in a balanced assessment system which includes not only standardized tests and summative classroom assessments but also formative assessment of various kinds. Teachers combine these varied sources of information to provide useful feedback and evaluation for students. This professional commitment is evidenced by our failure rate, which was less than 6% for core subjects last June.

Guide for Balanced Assessment & Grading

- Use multiple measures (i.e. a range of assessment types and at multiple points in time) to supplement district-centralized assessments with other formative assessments to provide a more comprehensive picture of student learning.
- Use screening, diagnostic, and progress monitoring assessment to correctly identify specific gaps and monitor improvement, especially for students receiving Tier 2 and 3 services, in addition to Tier 1 core instruction. (also see MTSS and Instruction)
- Make assessments accessible to students, including diverse learners and English Learners through employing features of universal design (http://www.udlcenter.org/aboutudl/udlcurriculum) and use of accommodations and, where needed, modifications.
    - Provide accommodations in presentation (i.e. how assessment text and tasks are presented to students), response (i.e. how students provide their answers), and/or setting/timing (i.e. scheduling/location of assessment).
- Utilize assessments that reflect the key shifts in literacy and mathematics in teacher created or selected assessments. (see Rigorous Student Tasks)
- Utilize assessments that measure the development of academic language for English learners.
- Have access to and analyze school-wide, teacher team, and classroom assessment data to determine instructional effectiveness and subsequent learning needs
- Improve and promote assessment literacy.
    - Work together on building common assessments within a department, course, or grade level team.
    - Invest resources in helping teachers evaluate and improve the quality of formative assessments. For example, use the Assessment Design Toolkit (http://www.csai-online.org/spotlight/assessment-design-toolkit).
    - Use common protocols and calibrate on scoring and grading in teacher teams.
    - Analyze quality and alignment of assessments and tasks to ensure they meet the expectations of the standards and embed various levels of complexity.
- Have a grading system that clearly, accurately, consistently, and fairly communicates learning progress and achievement to students, families, postsecondary institutions, and prospective employers.
    - Ensure that students, families, teachers, counselors, advisors, and support specialists have the detailed information they need to make important decisions about a student's education.
    - Measure, report, and document student progress and proficiency:
        - Against a set of clearly defined cross-curricular and content-area standards and learning objectives collaboratively developed with staff.
        - Separately from work habits, character traits, and behaviors, so that educators, counselors, advisors, and support specialists can accurately determine the difference between learning needs and behavioral or work-habit needs. academic mindsets and behaviors (CCSR).
    - Ensure consistency and fairness in the assessment of learning, and assignment of scores and proficiency levels against the same learning standards, across students, teachers, assessments, learning experiences, content areas, and time.
    - Ensure grades are not used as a form of punishment, control, or compliance.

Culture for Learning:

A culture for learning is characterized by a school atmosphere that reflects the educational importance of the work undertaken by both students and staff. It describes the norms that govern the interactions among individuals about the mindsets (e.g. ability/confidence to grow with effort), academic behaviors (e.g. attending classes, completing assignments), the learning strategies and skills, the value of perseverance despite challenges and obstacles, and the general tone of the school. The classroom is characterized by high cognitive energy, by a sense that what is happening there is important, and that it is essential to "get it right." There are high expectations for all students. The classroom is a place where teachers and students value learning and hard work, and students take visible delight in accomplishing their work. Staff believe they can make a difference, that their hard work is the fundamental cause of student achievement, and are invested in student outcomes.

> The culture of Whitney Young is characterized by an atmosphere of loving challenge in which students are both supported and held accountable for their academic, physical, and social growth. Across the faculty, classroom teachers' high REACH Evaluation scores for each component average 3.74 for tenured and 3.48 for provisionally assigned teachers with very little variability among components. These evaluations argue the existence of a consistent school-wide faculty commitment to excellence in the classroom. Further corroboration is supplied by the steady increase in AP enrollment, which has doubled in the past eight years. These data support the existence of a strong culture of learning at Whitney Young. .

Guide for Culture for Learning

- Create a culture that reflects a shared belief in the importance of learning and hard work.
  - Use strategies to reinforce and cultivate student curiosity.
  - Make learning goals relevant to students, and inspire students to stay committed to their learning goals.
  - Consistently communicate the expectation that all students can achieve at high levels.
  - Utilize strategies to encourage daily and timely attendance.
- Convey high learning expectations for all students and develop structures that enable practice and perseverance for each individual student.
  - Clearly display school-wide expectations for academic and personal success throughout the building.
  - Set high expectations according to grade-appropriate learning objectives.
  - Differentiate expectations so all students stretch to not only meet but exceed personal learning goals.
  - Recognize high levels of student achievement. All students receive recognition.
  - Encourage student resilience and hard work.
  - Ensure students feel safe to share misunderstandings and struggles.
- Encourage students to take ownership and pride in their work where students assume responsibility for high-quality work by persevering, initiating improvements, addressing critiques, making revisions, adding detail and/or helping peers.
  - Students self-assess (e.g. checking own work before giving to teacher) to develop a reflective habit of mind essential for improvement. This ensures students take responsibility for their own learning, focuses attention on criteria for success, and increases effort and persistence.
- Provide students frequent, informative feedback.
  - Tell/show students what they have done well (through positive reinforcement) and what they need to do to improve, including clarifying criteria and goals.
  - Give feedback on the task, the processes used to complete the task, and on the student's ability to self-regulate their own learning.
- Develop academic mindsets and behaviors.
  - Teach a growth mindset that over time with effort and practice, students can learn and succeed.
  - Encourage students' sense of belonging to the school and classroom community (see Relational Trust).
  - Employ strategies including ongoing monitoring and support of students' academic behaviors.
  - Praise effort and process. For example, "Good job, that must have taken a lot of effort" instead of, "Good job. You must be really smart."

Relational Trust:

The school is characterized by high levels of relational trust between all school participants - the "glue" or the essential element that coordinates and supports the processes essential to effective school improvement. Interactions, both between the teacher and students and among students, are highly respectful, reflecting genuine warmth and caring. Students contribute to high levels of civility. Interactions are sensitive to students as individuals, appropriate to the ages and development of individual students, and to the context of the class. The net result of interactions is that of academic and personal connections among students and adults.

> Whitney Young is caring and appropriately challenging community. Students feel listened to. When they have problems, whether academic, family-related, or interpersonal, they approach a dean, a counselor, a teacher, or Dr. Kenner the principal, confident in the knowledge that the adults around them will help them resolve it. A statistic in support of this description is that there has not been a physical fight at Whitney Young in at least four years. Students arrive with good coping skills, and Dr. Kenner's warm leadership creates an atmosphere in which students learn increasingly sophisticated communication techniques during their time in high school. Our commitment to supporting our students is also demonstrated by our Focus on Us program, through which students have opportunities twice each year to engage in a variety of social-emotional learning seminars aimed at increasing their interpersonal skills and their ability to cope with stress and keep themselves safe.

Guide for Relational Trust

- Develop trusting relationships with students so each student has at least one trusted adult in the school.
  - Adults are responsible for occasional check-ins or serve as mentors.
- Adult-student interactions are positive, caring, and respectful.
  - Ensure a greater proportion of interactions are positive (as opposed to corrective) between staff and student consistently school-wide.
- Student interactions are mutually supportive and respectful, with strong norms for positive behavior.
  - Create opportunities for students to build positive relationships with peers.
  - Create opportunities for older students to mentor younger students.
- Understand diversity and its impact on student learning; recognize and integrate the learning opportunities that come from a diverse community.
  - Create opportunities for students to learn about the community they serve (e.g. culture and neighborhoods).
  - Have mutual respect for individual differences (e.g. gender, race, culture, etc.) at all levels of the school—student-student; adult-student; adult-adult and overall norms for tolerance.
  - Provide training to engage diverse families and communities.
- Support and respect one another, personally and professionally (Teacher-Teacher Trust, Teacher-Principal Trust)
  - Respect other teachers who take the lead in school improvement efforts.
  - Respect colleagues who are experts at their craft.
  - Exchanges are marked by genuinely listening to what each person has to say and by taking these views into account in subsequent actions. Even when people disagree, individuals can still feel valued if others respect their opinions.
  - Personal regard springs from a collective willingness to extend beyond the formal requirements of a job definition or a union contract (e.g. openness or reaching out to others).
- Utilize relationships as a means of deterring truant behavior brought on by unspoken hurdles a child may be facing.

My Voice, My School survey results from our families show that Whitney Young is rated "Strong" on school safety, and although some of our students with behavioral issues act out occasionally, we have not had a physical fight in the building since 2012.

Guide for Safety & Order
- Ensure students and adults feel physically, socially, intellectually, and emotionally safe throughout the school.
- Provide clear procedures for reporting and responding to safety concerns.
- Manage efficient and orderly transitions between activities.

- Manage classroom routines and procedures to maximize instructional time.

Restorative Approaches to Discipline:

The school is characterized by having and implementing policies and procedures that emphasize proactive, instructive, and restorative approaches minimizing punitive consequences. Discipline practices primarily focus on shaping behavior as opposed to punishing behavior. The school only uses out-of-school suspension as a last resort and utilizes a systems-change approach to bring about a more restorative culture. The school is also characterized by strong and consistent school and classroom climates. The school reinforces positive behaviors and responds to misbehaviors in calm, respectful, and thoughtful ways, teaching students important social and emotional skills that enable them to get along with others, make responsible decisions, and focus on learning. When misbehavior occurs, the school seeks to understand the underlying reasons (root cause) in order to design a response that effectively changes student behavior using a menu of instructive, corrective and restorative responses.

> Counselors, deans, and administrators strive to resolve problems early and positively, making appropriate use of counseling and restorative justice techniques. In addition, our principal's door is always open for students who need extra help. In our school of 2200 students, we have had only 91 out of school suspensions and two thirds of those were resolved using some form of restorative justice in addition to the exclusions required by the Uniform Discipline Code. In this way, we not only provide a safe and orderly school climate but also help students to acquire the social and emotional tools they need for success in school and in adult life.

Guide for Restorative Approaches to Discipline

- PROACTIVE - Reinforce positive student behavior with clear expectations, routines, and procedures.
    - A team meets regularly to organize systems that support a restorative environment.
    - Post and refer to clear, positively stated expectations and model expected behaviors.
    - Create routines and procedures central to the learning environment.
    - Engage families as partners.
    - Contact families frequently to inform them of positive student behavior and progress.
    - Vary acknowledgements and provide both short and long term opportunities for reinforcement for all students.
- INSTRUCTIVE - Integrate universal SEL skills instruction and core content.
    - Intentionally teach competencies outlined in SEL Standards. Use discipline as opportunity to teach these skills.
    - Use a Multi-tiered System of Supports (MTSS) for social, emotional, and behavioral growth.
        - Use data to determine which behaviors should be retaught or more heavily reinforced.
    - Explicitly teach expected behavior and positively reinforce consistently school-wide.
    - Avoid power struggles with students by offering choices. Redirect students privately and respectfully.
- RESTORATIVE - Employ a continuum of responses to behavior to effectively change student behavior.
    - Ensure classroom instruction continues when problem behavior occurs.
    - Prefer responses that do not remove students from regular instructional setting or after school activities.
    - Respond to behavior to address the cause, reteach expectations, build social emotional skills, and repair relationships with staff or peers.
    - Designate an administrator, such as a dean or restorative practices coordinator, responsible for leading centrally-managed response to behaviors using consistent, restorative procedures.

- Support teachers to engage in restorative conversations or respond to behavior incidents.
- Provide opportunities for students to take responsibility for repairing harm caused by their actions.
- Assign detention and ISS only for students who have a pattern of misbehavior and have not responded to non-exclusionary interventions, or when separation is a logical response to the behavior.
  - Include specific interventions to address social and emotional skill development, communicate with teachers to repair relationships, maintain classroom work, and connect to behavioral intervention services as necessary.
  - Establish a clear procedure for obtaining assignments from teachers to mitigate the impact of lost instruction for students assigned to ISS.
  - Designate space and consistent staff to support implementation of ISS.
- (Optional) Develop a Behavioral Health Team to coordinate appropriate behavioral interventions.

Parent Partnership:

The school develops strong parent partnerships characterized by involving parents in the instructional program, messaging expectations, fostering a better connection between the school and home, and inspiring participation and high levels of collaboration with families. The school provides opportunities for families to volunteer, build its parent community, and support the school's operations through activities including but not limited to participation on parent councils (e.g. PACs, BACs and PLNs). We consider parents at Whitney Young as full partners in their children's education. Our LSC provides positive leadership and a venue for parents to express their concerns. Our Friends of Whitney Young organization holds regular fundraisers in support of our school's needs, and we also have a variety of booster clubs for teams and musical organizations as well as our Academic Center Family Night organization which hosts all Academic Center families for dinner and a program three times each year. Our PTSO helps to welcome parents to Report Card Pickup, and their meetings provide an additional forum for parent discussion. Our Report Card Pickup events are well attended, as are the Counseling Department's Hot Topics discussions, which are held quarterly. Recent Hot Topics have included teenagers and stress, the college admissions process, and adolescent brain development. This year Dr. Kenner has also instituted the Principal's Lecture Series, which is open to parents, students, and community members. Recent topics have included the following titles: Does Whitney Young Have a Drug Problem? and Does Whitney Young Embrace LGBT Rights?
In addition to special events and programs, Whitney Young parents are involved throughout the daily life of our school. They frequently volunteer as field trip chaperones, science fair judges, AP exam proctors, and receptionists in the Counseling Suite. Teachers communicate with parents frequently via Edline, and our weekly newsletter provides up to date information on events and achievements at our school.

Guide for Parent Partnership
- Establish a non-threatening, welcoming environment that is warm, inviting, and helpful.
- Provide frequent, high quality, well publicized opportunities for families and community to participate in authentic and engaging activities in the school community (e.g. student performances/ exhibitions, literacy or math events).
- Provide multiple opportunities for parents to ask questions, raise concerns, and give feedback.
  - Respond to families' concerns and requests for information professionally and in a timely manner, providing resources and solutions to address the concerns.
- Solicit the support and engagement of families as partners in the instructional program (e.g. volunteering, working at home with their child, involvement in class and school projects in and out of school, and parent workshops).
  - Host events for parents to share with other parents how home and school complement each other.
  - Share best practices around learning and development with parents to support students at home.

Strategy 1

If we do...	...then we see...	...which leads to...
Revitalize the Instructional Leadership Team, providing it with a clear and evolving purpose and a mechanism within which to disseminate resources to faculty.	increased informed participation among team members and increased resource sharing among faculty members within and among departments	fulfillment of the part of our school's mission which deals with providing "an excellent and differentiated education in an environment of excellence, responsibility, and diversity" by lowering our failure rate to 5% from our current 6% and raising our AP exam pass rate from our current 81% to 85%.

Strategy 2

If we do...

Develop the capacity of the Multi-tiered Support System to support students' learning and mental health by strengthening the faculty communication system with respect to student achievement in all three Tiers. Increase faculty awareness of the needs of various disaggregated groups including diverse learners, the gifted, English Learners, African American and Hispanic students, and those working through credit recovery experiences.

...then we see...

increased targeted response to students' academic and social-emotional needs

...which leads to...

raising test scores once benchmarks are published, lowering the failure rate to 5%, improving grades, and increasing the rate of college readiness in support of the section of the school's mission which deals with "challenging all students to reach their maximum potential."

NCLB Program

○ NCLB Schoolwide Program

(Not available to schools receiving NCLB funds for the first time) [Title 1/SW].

The school annually reviews the schoolwide plan/program. The schoolwide program plan is available to CPS, parents, and the public, and the information in the plan is in an understandable and uniform format, and to the extent practicable in a language the parents can understand.

○ NCLB Targeted Assistance Program Title I funded staff participate in the school's general professional development and school planning activities. Title I funded staff assume limited duties that are assigned to similar personnel including duties beyond the classroom, or that do not benefit Title I students, as long as the amount of time spent on such duties is the same proportion of the total work time with respect to similar staff.

◉ Non-title school that does not receive any Title funds

Parent Involvement in Targeted Assistance and Schoolwide Programs

☐ I verify that the statement below is correct

No Child Left Behind (NCLB), the reauthorization of the Elementary and Secondary Act of 1965 continues a legislative commitment to parental involvement. Central features of prior reauthorizations, such as school-parent compacts, parent involvement policies, and the parent involvement funding formula remain unaltered. However, the NCLB reauthorization represents a notable shift in the role of parental involvement in the schools. It includes new provisions increasing parental notification requirements, parental selection of educational options, and parental involvement in governance. It envisions parents as informed and empowered decision makers in their children's education.
